CG GRIEVANCE 20150323 022115.pdf

Dear Ms. deBeau and Mr. Jordan,

I have been involved in the grievance process with Chicago Signature Services since February 24, 2015-with H.E.R.E. Local One as my representation. I have maintained my status as a member in good standing throughout this process. The attached correspondence dated June 1, 2016 is one of several I have received from H.E.R.E. Local One during this timeframe. I am particularly concerned with this notice, as I am reasonably suspicious of H.E.R.E. Local One's motivation-given my pending complaint with the Federal Elections Commission. I remain actively employed at two other locations represented by H.E.R.E. Local One and am not on withdrawal. Should I forward this documentation formally via a notarized and sworn letter or does this e-mail suffice?

Thank you for assisting me and please forgive my lack of familiarity in a matter of this type.

Have a Happy Independence day, Chris Smola

Dear Member:

We were recently informed that you are currently or were recently out on a leave of absence, on layoff, or no longer employed in a position represented by UNITE HERE Local 1.

As a result, we have placed you on withdrawal effective 3/31/2016. While you are on withdrawal, you will not be required to pay dues. If you go back to work in an industry in which employees are represented by UNITE HERE, you will need to resume your membership in good standing by starting dues payments again. You will have your original membership date. This letter serves as your evidence of withdrawal so be sure to keep it. Please notify your employer that you have withdrawn, and notify the union when you return to work.

During your withdrawal you will be ineligible to vote, attend meetings and hold office in the union. Please review the back of this form to read Article 14 "Withdrawal or Transfer of Membership" of the International Union Constitution. Withdrawal may also affect your survivors' entitlement to the death burial benefit under the Constitution, if you were a member in good standing of the Hotel Employees and Restaurant Employees International Union on July 19, 2001.

If you do not want to withdraw your membership during this time and instead wish to continue paying dues and remain eligible to vote, attend meetings and hold office in the union, you must contact our offices at (312) 663-4373 and request to be taken off withdrawal.

Sincerely,

UNITE HERE! Local 1
